

Going All In For Christ, To Reach The Lost

So, do you believe we're in the end times; nearing the time where the trumpet will sound and Christ returns for His bride? More so than ever I see and sense we're in a fast-forward mode, as society's morals and standards steer even further away from the truth found in our Lord's Word.

Time is Short, Seize the Day! I'm reminded of our calling from the Lord to Go and preach the Good News (Matt. 28: 18, 19), "while it is still daytime" (John 9:4, meaning, while we still have time). It's the people God places in our paths that we're called to reach during our lifetime. I don't know about you, but I feel a heightened sense of urgency to be about My Father's business NOW and not delay thoughts or plans any longer.

It's time to go extreme and all-in for Christ, with no reservation. Many will find this not normal and bordering on the extreme, but when we (lots of fingers pointing my way) chase after God as our First Love and have a sold-out heart for His people, then we'll be in the "sweet spot" of our Father's heart. Does that mean our own personal interests cease? No, not at all, but they'll be subservient to things that touch our Father's heart. My prayer today: "God, so burn within me a heart of love for your people; one that hurts/aches for lost souls who are on the highway to hell. Holy Spirit, birth inside me a genuine love like Jesus had/has, to tell them the Good News that Jesus loves them and has extended to them a dinner invitation to the "Marriage Super of the Lamb." Help me to share this message boldly and clearly, and then hear them give you their RSVP that they have accepted Your invitation. Amen!"

My friends, here is where I am right now. I'm hot in pursuit of more of God (i.e., more of Him and less of "David"), and in my quest I'm learning when you want something from Him, don't give up, but keep pressing in. Oftentimes God is testing our faith to see how determined we are. Your and my willingness to knock and keep on knocking will eventually result in Jesus opening the door.

*David L. Hamil
Co-founder and Ministry Lead
2 Hearts for Integrity Ministries*