

ARE YOU A GOD CHASER?

Note, this brief article was written and shared with my Christian brothers and sisters in late 2012.

I'm reading a book called "God Chasers," by Tommy Tenney; one we've had on the bookshelf at home for years that I know Marina has read but I never really got past the first chapter. During the season in my life when she was meditating on the revelation words coming off the page, I was not in a "spiritual awakening" season in my life. But, that's changed. I've felt a very strong stirring of the Holy Spirit within me over these last several weeks; more so on a consistent basis than I believe ever in my life. I know for a fact that the basis for this stirring is I've not been fulfilling the purpose God has for my life. Do I know what it is? Not exactly but I do know He is stirring me to be bolder about sharing the Gospel. That much I do know. Hopefully Marina is liking the new me; the one that is a under construction, where more of Him and less of me is instilled each and every day. A byproduct of this stirring is a soul (my soul) that is "following hard after Him," like never before and a stronger calling in my own life to speak the Word or reflect the Word whenever and wherever. As a God chaser, I'm desiring more of God's presence to permeate/infiltrate my life ("fill me up to overflowing Lord") so it runs out to others around. I told Marina I believe He (Christ) still has a lot of "me" to get rid of but I'm a willing vessel now to follow His leading. We're on a journey.
